Writing 1002F: Introduction to Writing in English (Section 670) Spring 2026

Land Acknowledgement

It's important that we all acknowledge that our campus at King's University College is situated on the traditional territories of the Anishinaabek, Haudenosaunee, Lūnaapéewak, and Chonnonton peoples, all of whom have longstanding relationships to the land of Southwestern Ontario and the City of London.

The First Nations communities of our local area include Chippewas of the Thames First Nation, Oneida Nation of the Thames, and Munsee Delaware Nation. In our region, there are eleven First Nations communities, as well as a growing indigenous urban population. King's University College values the significant historical and contemporary contributions of local and regional First Nations, and all of the Original Peoples of Turtle Island (also known as North America).

Pronunciation guide

Anishinaabek: Ah-nish-in-a-bek

Haudenosaunee: Ho-den-no-show-nee

Lūnaapéewak: Len-ah-pay-wuk

Chonnonton: Chun-ongk-ton

The textbook, lessons, assignments, quizzes, test, and resources for this course will all be posted on the course OWL Brightspace/D2L site. To find the course, go to <https://westernu.brightspace.com/d2l/home> and log in with your Western University ID and password.

Writing 1002 Learning Outcomes: What Will You Get From This Course?

Writing 1002 can help you learn to think more critically, and to write more effectively and professionally in English, as you use it for academic purposes. It can improve your performance in all your university courses.

The course will help you to do the following:

1. consider your own personal and cultural identities as a writer, and honour diverse cultural modes of communication;
2. be empowered through critical language awareness and engagement with decolonial approaches to academic literacies in English;
3. understand the kinds of reading, thinking, and writing skills you need to succeed in the Canadian university context;
4. interpret an essay prompt or question, and identify or define a research problem;
5. write a valid hypothesis, thesis, or argument related to a research question;
6. find reliable academic sources, and read them selectively and critically;
7. organize ideas in well-structured paragraphs, and connect the paragraphs to produce a coherent essay;
8. integrate material from research sources into your writing through paraphrase, summary, and quotation;
9. cite your sources in APA style;

10. have an overall sense of how genre governs writing, and produce writing in 4 genres; and
11. feel that you belong to a supportive community of learners and know how to access campus resources and supports.¹

What Textbooks Do You Need? Where Will You Find Them?

Your textbook (with required readings) is free and is linked to your course OWL Brightspace site.

Please go to the Textbook tab in the left-hand course menu, or, in the toolbar at the top of our course OWL Brightspace site, find the “Content” tool, and then go to “Textbook”):

- Natarajan, S., & Pez, E. (Eds.). (2025). Thinking about writing: Readings for multilingual writers. Writing@King’s. <https://doi.org/10.5206/PWFY9767>. You will be asked to read specific chapters each week. You will also be asked to read additional chapters that you can use as research for your assignments, and that will help you prepare for your final exam.
- In addition, each week, you will be asked to review web pages or videos on Indigenous Knowledges, citation, grammar, and other aspects of academic writing. (Go to “Content” tool at the top of our Brightspace site and then to “Week 1/Unit 1,” “Week 2/Unit 2,” etc. Also refer to our Writing 1002 Schedule below.)

What Technology Do You Need?

- Writing 1002F (670) is offered through King’s/Western’s learning platform, OWL Brightspace, which is supported and maintained by Western Technology Services (WTS). To access the course, it is recommended to use a Google Chrome browser (the latest version).
 - For support with OWL Brightspace, please check out the OWL Brightspace Learner Support Site: <https://brightspacehelp.uwo.ca/student/>
 - If you are having difficulties, you can access technical help by creating an OWL Brightspace service ticket: <https://brightspacehelp.uwo.ca/contact-us.html>
 - If you have accessibility needs, you can find information on the OWL Brightspace Learner Support Site’s Accessibility page: <https://brightspacehelp.uwo.ca/student/account-accessibility.html>. Please also contact me. Accessibility of course materials is important to me. Please let me know if you need course materials in a different format, or if I can improve the course’s design to make it more accessible. I am happy to receive feedback and to work with you on this.
 - To take this course, you will also need:
 - Internet access

- Access to a laptop or other device with a microphone
- A quiet space to study or take part in occasional online synchronous learning (for example, one-on-one Zoom meetings with me)

Accessibility at King’s, and in This Course

- This course attempts to apply universal design principles and multimodal delivery, but I recognize that enhancing access is always a work-in-progress.
- Because your participation and success in this class matter to me, I want to ensure that the course is responsive to your needs. If there is anything I can do to make the course more accessible and friendly for you, please let me know. I welcome your ideas and would love to hear from you. I will work with you to minimize any barriers to inclusion that you have encountered, including barriers related to disability, race, gender identity, sexual orientation, language, culture, religion, academic background, age, or socioeconomic status.
- Accommodations for exams, other assessments, or course delivery are your right; if you need any, please visit the King’s Accessibility and Counselling Office: https://www.kings.uwo.ca/current-students/student-affairs/accessibility-services/ If you need accommodations, but you do not have formal accommodations from King’s Accessibility and Counselling Office, please contact me.
- All quizzes are expected to take approximately 20 minutes to complete. The test is expected to take approximately 40 minutes to complete. All students will have 1 hour and 10 minutes to complete it.
- For information on accessible routes, temporary service disruptions, feedback about the accessibility of services, and policies related to service animals, support persons, and assistive devices, please visit King’s Accessibility Website: https://www.kings.uwo.ca/about-kings/facts-and-information/administrative-departments/hr/accessibility/

How Can You Succeed in this Course?

Each of the capitalized, highlighted words in the notes below refers to an item in the toolbar at the top of our course OWL Brightspace page, or in the Course Content Menu on the left-hand side of the course site:

1. The COURSE HOME tool gives you a quick picture of the course. This tool displays widgets with course content, class announcements, upcoming due dates and calendar events, and a brief introduction to your instructor. Read this page carefully, open all the tools on your first day, and explore each OWL Brightspace feature to make the best use of it. Get to know your instructor--keep in touch with me and with each other! If you need information or help, or if you would like to share your thoughts, email me at pmorley3@uwo.ca. You will also find a Zoom link in the Course Home tool to attend office hours and your required one-on-one meeting with me.

2. Use the CONTENT tool to access the readings and lessons for this course. This tool is structured with the following content (see the left-hand menu):
 - a. Go to “Overview” for a brief introduction to the course, its learning outcomes, and structure.
 - b. In “Syllabus,” you will find out what is expected of you as you read your assigned texts; interact with other students and with me; complete coursework as well as timed quizzes, a test, and assignments; and participate in community learning, group/pair tasks, and discussions. In the syllabus, pay close attention to Your Writing 1002 Schedule, which will tell you exactly how to complete each week’s work: what to read, what to research, and what quizzes/tests or assignments are due.
 - c. In “Textbook,” you will find the required course readings and additional course readings. Before you open each lesson, you must complete the assigned weekly reading from the textbook (please refer to Your Writing 1002 Schedule in this syllabus/course outline). When you read, you must find out word meanings, mark key ideas, and keep notes on your responses and any questions you may have. Your reading, including vocabulary and understanding of the articles in the textbook, will be tested in the quizzes.
 - d. Lessons and readings assigned for each week will be available in “Week 1/Unit 1,” “Week 2/ Unit 2,” etc. The course has 11 lesson units, and a meeting with a Write Place tutor. You must complete TWO lesson units per week. Don’t postpone your work on the lessons since this will affect your completion of the quizzes and test before their closing dates. I will add new lesson content on Mondays and Wednesdays. I will post lesson VoiceThread videos along with a text transcript and the PowerPoint slides used in each lesson video. I also invite you to post your own comments, questions, or suggestions to the weekly lesson videos. I value your contributions! Posts to the lesson videos will not be graded, although posting and reading each other’s comments will enrich your experience of the course and help everyone learn.
 - e. Here are instructions for how to post a comment: Open the link to the lesson video, and select a slide. At the bottom of that slide, select the “+” icon. You can choose a text, audio, or video comment, or choose to upload a comment. When you have finished the comment, select “Save.”
 - f. For some video resources about The Write Place (the writing support centre at King’s) and the King’s Writing program, go to the tab for “The Write Place.”
3. The CALENDAR tool will help you manage your time responsibly by showing you important due dates in the course. To succeed in this course, each week (for 12 weeks) you will need to spend about 6 hours as follows:

- a. one to two hours on reading, including looking up words and making notes;
- b. one to two hours on the Lessons;
- c. two to three hours on quizzes, research, and writing.

Some weeks will be busier than others. Be sure to budget your time efficiently. For important university dates (Add/Drop deadlines, the exam period and Study Days, etc.), go to this page on Academic Dates and Events for Western University: https://www.kings.uwo.ca/current-students/academic-resources/academic-dates-and-events/

4. In the COMMUNICATIONS tool, you will find important course announcements, discussion forums.
 - a. “Announcements” will be used to remind you, through the course home page and your Western email, of upcoming deadlines and other important information. You must read all announcements because they will help you keep track of what you need to do. Please check your Western email frequently (or forward emails from there to an email address you do check every day). Please don't reply to Brightspace announcements/notifications because I won't receive your response. Email me directly at pmorley3@uwo.ca
 - b. In “Discussions,” there is an important opportunity for you to get to know your classmates and learn from each other through a forum discussion. This is an ungraded activity.
5. In the ASSESSMENTS tool, go to “Assignments” to find instructions for and to submit your course assignments, and go to “Quizzes” to find your quizzes and test, which will be available on the dates listed on Your Writing 1002 Schedule on this course outline/syllabus. Pay attention to the Summary of Assessment Weights below, which include assignments, quizzes, a test, and the final exam. Start working on your assignments early to complete them by the submission due dates. Before you submit your research essay, make sure you book an appointment with a tutor at The Write Place, the writing support centre at King’s.
6. In the GRADES tool, you will find your grades for each assignment, quiz, or test when they are available.
7. In the HELP tool, you can access technical support for OWL Brightspace.

What Happens if You Don’t Log in Regularly?

- Reading your texts according to the schedule, watching the weekly lesson videos, and completing your work by the due dates are very important. If I feel that you are not keeping up with the required work each week, I will contact you about this and do my best to work with you on any issues or problems you are facing. Please talk to me, even though this can feel like a difficult thing to do.

- If you are not able to complete the work in a way that meets the course goals, it will not be possible to pass the course.

What Expectations for Ethical Behaviour, Politeness, and Honesty Govern our Online Interactions?

- You and I (your instructor) are expected to be professional, respectful, and kind to each other when we are interacting. We must be respectful of this course's goals, of each other's privacy, and of our diverse views and standpoints. Going beyond mere professionalism, I hope you will work with me to build an anti-oppressive, equitable, and inclusive class community that honours each person's identity (including their pronouns), self-expression, language/s, and experience.
- Please refer to the King's Code of Student Responsibilities and Conduct: <https://www.kings.uwo.ca/kings/assets/File/currentStudents/studentLife/conduct/student-code-of-conduct.pdf>
- This course's content, created by your faculty members and fellow students in the class (for example, in posts to the discussion forums and lessons), should not be distributed, shared in any public domain, or sold without prior written consent of the faculty members or students.

Assignments, Academic Integrity, and AI Policy

- Term assignments are worth 70% of your total course mark, and the final examination is worth 30%.
- All assignments, quizzes, tests, and examinations must be done by you, following the instructions outlined on the course site. Students often resort to plagiarism (<https://www.lib.uwo.ca/tutorials/plagiarism/index.html>) when they are under pressure, so time management and keeping in touch with your instructor about your concerns are key. Shortcuts such as copy-pasting of large amounts of text, contract cheating (<https://www.uwo.ca/ombuds/pdf/aicotips.pdf>), and self-plagiarism (<https://www.kings.uwo.ca/kings/assets/File/academics/ml/writePlace/academic/PlagiarismVoicethread-transcript-Aug-2020.pdf>) are subject to Western's scholastic discipline policy (https://www.uwo.ca/univsec/pdf/academic_policies/appeals/scholastic_discipline_undergrad.pdf). The assignments, quizzes, test, and examination must not be the same work, or adapted work, that you submitted for any other course that you have taken before. Submitting the same essay or copying and pasting passages from an essay that you submitted for another course (whether in university, college, or high school) is considered plagiarism (specifically, it's self-plagiarism). These shortcuts also defeat the purpose for which you take a course: learning and developing skills. Patchwriting (copying and slightly modifying “patches” of borrowed text) is less serious but is also unacceptable. If you are worried or unsure how to avoid plagiarism, please reach out to me; I am always happy to help you.

- In this course, generative Artificial Intelligence (AI) tools (for example, Microsoft Office Editor) are permitted ONLY for helping you edit your grammar, translate text, and generate citations. Otherwise, use of generative AI tools such as ChatGPT is not permitted for any assessments, including assignments, essays, quizzes, tests, discussion posts, and examinations. Generative AI tools are not permitted because this course aims to help you develop essential reading, writing, and thinking skills that you will need for your other university courses, and for your future studies and career. Using generative AI tools to do the work for you will prevent you from developing these skills. Moreover, generative AI tools create text that can contain bias, prejudice, and other errors. They are shockingly destructive to the environment. If I have concerns about any of your assignments, I will contact you about this.
- You will do one or more of the following every week: a) Quizzes, b) Discussion posts, c) Assignments, and d) a Test. At the end of the course, you will write e) the Final Exam. Expect to spend at least two hours per week on quizzes and assignments.
- You must submit your assessments on OWL Brightspace—refer to the ASSESSMENTS tool for details.
- Please keep a copy of all your assignments; if a submitted assignment is lost, you will be asked to submit the duplicate immediately for grading.
- Before you submit either the first draft or the second draft of your Research essay, you must receive feedback from The Write Place. Make your appointment early: <https://www.kings.uwo.ca/current-students/academic-resources/the-write-place/appointments/>
- To access my feedback for an assignment when it has been posted, please go to the “Assessments” tool and then to “Assignments.” Find the name of your assignment on the “Assignments” page, and then go to “Unread” in the “Evaluation Status” column.
- The final examination (which will be online) will test your ability to read an essay critically; to construct a strong argument; to summarize, paraphrase, and quote effectively; and to cite correctly. A model final examination and advice on how to prepare will be provided in Week 12. The opening and closing dates of the final exam will be announced at a later date. On the exam, do not cut and paste from your research essay or any other assignments that you submitted for this course. This is self-plagiarism and will result in a grade of zero for the cut and pasted work. Outside assistance on this exam, such as from The Write Place or from generative AI tools like ChatGPT, is strictly prohibited and will result in a grade of zero on the exam.

FRIDAY MAKE-UP EXAMS

Please note that Friday, Make-Up Exams may only be written with the instructor's consent.

What Happens if You Submit an Assignment After the Due Date?

Since writing is a process, and since each Writing assignment builds on the previous one, I strongly encourage you to stay within the deadlines.

All students can have 48 hours of extra time past the posted deadline for each assignment (except for the final exam) without notifying me. If you need more than the extra 48 hours, and have compassionate, ceremonial, religious, or medical grounds for late submission, please contact me as soon as possible to set up a new submission date. In case of academic consideration, course requirements will be met through either a make-up opportunity for assignments and the test or through reweighting of grades for quizzes. If you are permitted a late assignment submission, please e-mail the assignment to me at pmorley3@uwo.ca

Any late submissions after the last day of classes can only be arranged through an academic advisor from the Academic Advising Office of your faculty/college of registration. Academic consideration for the final exam can only be granted by an academic advisor from the Academic Advising Office of your faculty/college of registration. Please follow the procedure set out on the Academic Policies pages at the end of this course outline.

NOTE: Quizzes MUST be submitted within the stipulated window (there is no extra time). If you miss a quiz for documented reasons, I will grade your ungraded Discussion Forum post.

Your Writing 1002 Schedule: Reading, Lessons, and Writing

This course has twelve lesson units. Each unit, which should be completed during the week specified in your schedule below, asks you to complete a specific reading (or watch specific videos), takes you through one to five Lessons (lectures), and asks you to complete one or more writing tasks. Lessons will be posted at the beginning of each week. The quizzes will test if you have read the essays from your textbook, since you will not benefit from listening to the lessons without preparing for them through the reading. You are welcome to request additional meetings by e-mail or to meet me during my virtual office hours.

Please note:

The required readings are from your textbook (S. Natarajan & E. Pez (Eds.), Thinking About Writing: Readings for Multilingual Writers). They MUST BE READ BEFORE you open the Lessons! Your reading of them will be tested through the quizzes. The additional readings MUST BE READ when you are writing your assignments, and/or before the test and exam. I also recommend that you read them before you listen to or watch the lessons.

King's University College General Course Policies 2025-2026

1. Academic Accommodations, Consideration for Absences

Academic Accommodation (Accessibility)

Accessibility Services works to ensure that academic programs are accessible to all students, and supports students who may have a condition related to, but not limited to, vision, hearing, mobility, different ways of learning, mental health, chronic illnesses, chronic pain, autism spectrum disorder, ADD/ADHD, and temporary conditions (beyond short-term academic consideration). Accessibility Services provides recommendations for accommodation based on medical documentation or psychological and cognitive assessment. The accommodation policy can be found here Academic Accommodation for Students with Disabilities. Information on Accessibility Services at King's can be found here.

Academic Consideration for Student Absence

If a student is unable to meet a course requirement due to substantial but temporary extenuating circumstances (medical or compassionate), they should follow the procedures below.

In some cases, where instructors have built flexibility into their assessments, this flexibility will already address consideration needs.

Requests for academic consideration should be directed to the Academic Advising Office of your faculty/college of registration. Requests must be made as soon as possible and no later than 48 hours after the missed assessment.

As a rule, documentation is required for academic consideration. For academic consideration requests on medical grounds, the Student Medical Certificate is available at here.

Students are permitted one academic consideration request without supporting documentation per term per course. Instructors may designate one assessment per half-course weight as requiring formal supporting documentation. Please refer to the course outline for each course. For further information, please see:

<https://mykings.ca/intranet/app/#/academics/academic-advising/academic-consideration-requests-and-student-absence-portal>

Absences from Final Examinations

If you miss the Final Exam, contact the Academic Advising Office of your faculty/college of registration as soon as you are able to do so. They will assess your eligibility to write the Special Examination (the name given by the University to a makeup Final Exam).

You may also be eligible to write the Special Exam if you are in a “Multiple Exam Situation” (e.g., more than 2 exams in 23-hour period, or more than 3 exams in a 47-hour period).

If a student fails to write a scheduled Special Examination, the date of the next Special Examination (if granted) normally will be the scheduled date for the final exam the next time this course is offered. The maximum course load for that term will be reduced by the credit of the course(s) for which the final examination has been deferred. See the Academic Calendar for details https://academicsupport.uwo.ca/accessible_education/exams/index.html.

Religious Accommodation

Students should consult the University's list of recognized religious holidays, and should give notice in writing to the instructor and Academic Advising Office if a course requirement will be affected by a religious holiday/observance. Notice must be given as early as possible, and no later than two weeks prior to an examination, and one week prior to a midterm test date. It is the responsibility of such students to inform themselves concerning the work done in classes from which they are absent and to take appropriate action.

3. Statement on Use of Electronic Devices

Use of Electronic Devices: Unless explicitly stated otherwise, you are not allowed to have a cell phone, or any other electronic device, with you during tests or examinations. Unauthorized possession of such a device during a test or examination constitutes an academic offence.

Use of Laptops, Tablets, and Smartphones in the Classroom: King's University College at Western University acknowledges the integration of new technologies and learning methods into the curriculum. The use of electronic devices such as laptop computers, tablets, or smartphones can contribute to student engagement and effective learning. At the same time, King's recognizes that instructors and students share jointly the responsibility to establish and maintain a respectful classroom environment conducive to learning.

The use of electronic devices by students during lectures, seminars, labs, etc., shall be for matters related to the course at hand only. Students found to be using electronic devices for purposes not directly related to the class may be subject to sanctions under the Student Code of Conduct; see

<https://mykings.ca/intranet/app/#/student-supports-and-services/campus-safety-and-reporting/student-code-of-conduct>

Inappropriate use of electronics (e.g., laptops, tablets, smartphones) during lectures, seminars, labs, etc., creates a significant disruption. As a consequence, instructors may choose to limit the use of electronic devices in these settings. In addition, in order to provide a safe classroom environment, students attending in-person class sessions are strongly advised to operate laptops with batteries rather than power cords.

4. Statement on Academic Offences

King's is committed to academic integrity. Scholastic offences are taken seriously and students are directed to read the appropriate policy, specifically, the definition of what constitutes a Scholastic Offence, is posted at here.

It is expected that students will submit work that is truly their own, completed without external assistance (human or artificial) except as explicitly permitted by the course instructor. Check with your instructor on what tools, including generative AI (ChatGPT, translation tools, grammar-checking tools) are permitted in the course. Because a tool is permitted in one course, that does not mean it is permitted in other courses.

All required papers may be subject to submission for textual similarity review to the commercial plagiarism detection software under license to the University for the detection of plagiarism. All papers submitted for such checking will be included as source documents in the reference database for the purpose of detecting plagiarism of papers subsequently submitted to the system; see <https://elearningtoolkit.uwo.ca/tools/OriginalityReports-TurnItIn.html>.

Computer-marked multiple-choice tests and/or exams may be subject to submission for similarity review by software that will check for unusual coincidences in answer patterns that may indicate cheating.

5. Copyright of Course Material

Lectures and course materials, including PowerPoint presentations, tests, outlines, and similar materials are protected by copyright. Faculty members are the exclusive owner of copyright in those materials they create. Students may take notes and make copies for their own use. Students may not allow others to reproduce or distribute lecture notes and course materials publicly (whether or not a fee is charged) without the express written consent of a faculty member.

Unauthorized sharing of class content is subject to academic discipline.

Similarly, students own copyright in their own original papers and exam essays. If a faculty member wishes to post a student's answers or papers on the course website, they should ask for the student's written permission.

6. Use of Recordings

Participants in this course are not permitted to record the sessions, except where recording is an approved accommodation and/or the participant has the prior written permission of the instructor. Unauthorized recording and/or sharing of class content is subject to academic discipline.

7. Policy on Attendance

Any student who, in the opinion of the instructor, is absent too frequently from class or laboratory periods in any course, will be reported to the Dean of the Faculty offering the course, after due warning has been given. On the recommendation of the department concerned, and with the permission of the Dean of that Faculty, the student will be debarred from taking the regular examination in the course.
