Course Overview: This course introduces students to issues of social justice and peace. We investigate some of the most vital and pressing problems confronting the world today: why is there such poverty side-by-side enormous wealth? Why is inequality worsening in many countries around the world? What leads corporations to damage the environment? How do structures of patriarchy and racism perpetuate oppression? What is the relationship between capitalism and war? What does oppression and exploitation look like in the 21st century? And how are these issues interrelated? This course begins by describing the origins and development of global capitalism. After investigating some of the main sources of contemporary injustice, we explore the possibilities for resistance and the creation of more just alternatives. The course aims to increase students' sensitivities to the injustices that exist in Canada and abroad, as well as developing our abilities to think critically and see the world from different perspectives.

Course texts: All readings/resources available online via OWL at no additional cost

Learning Objectives and Outcomes: Throughout the course of SOCLJUST1025 students will:

- Explore key debates, discussion and perspective of social justice
- Recognize and challenge hierarchies of race, class, gender, sexuality and ability
- Develop an understanding of the connections between current issues of social justice and larger systems of power and oppression
- Engage with classic and contemporary texts/theorists regarding questions of social justice
- Identify, explain and critique various forms of systemic oppressions
- Formulate a personal framework for discussing and debating issues of social justice

Class Attendance, Participation and Expectations:

I expect that students will have read and thoughtfully engaged with all weekly material. I also expect that we will collectively maintain a respectful classroom and constructive learning environment. This includes compassion and empathy, active listening to different perspectives and never engaging in hateful speech or behaviour. Please note that since we are discussing topics of power, oppression and social justice, you may find some material to be difficult to read/watch. Your emotional health is important and please do not hesitate to reach out if there is material that may be challenging for you to engage with.

There is an absolute expectation that you do not use AI for any assignment in this class. The purpose of this class is to allow you to think critically for yourself. As the instructor, I reserve the right to use various plagiarism-checking tools in evaluating your work, including those screening for AI-generated content, and impose consequences accordingly. Failure to comply with this policy will result in disciplinary action. Suspected AI use will result in a meeting to defend the originality of your work, if you are unable to do so, your work will not receive a passing grade on the assignment.

Assignment Schedule:

Assignment	Description	Value
Engagement Ongoing	Attendance and Participation	15%
Reflexive Paper: Social Justice Autobiography September 27th	Critically reflect on your own experiences connected to social justice and peace 3-4 pages (1000~ words)	15%
Critical Analysis October 25th	Critical analysis of an article and TV show 800-1000~ words (400-500~ words each)	15%
Essay Assignment November 22nd	1200-1500 words An essay response to one of the proposed questions (posted on OWL)	25% (20% paper, 5% rough work)
Final Exam TBD	In class, final exam during exam period	30%

Assignment Details:

All assignments are to be completed in APA format

Participation- Ongoing (15%)

You will be required to read for each class. Plan to read critically rather than just for content. You are expected to have read all assigned materials prior to each class period and to be prepared to participate in discussions. While this is not a seminar course, we will be engaging in small group discussions most classes. Participation grades are based on regular attendance, reading each week's assignment, asking insightful questions, contributing to discussion in a positive way and being a respectful listener. No single portion (attendance, discussion, questions, etc.) determines your overall participation grade.

Reflexive Paper: Social Justice Autobiography (15%): September 27th

This "social justice autobiography" will provide an opportunity to reflect upon your own life and experiences surrounding your development of an understanding of topics related social justice. Things to consider could include (but are not limited to): How has your relationship and understanding of social justice changed throughout your lifetime? What situations or experiences (personal, community, national or global) have influenced your awareness of social justice? Are there specific people or figures who impacted your understanding of these issues? How does your own positionality (social location) impact your understanding or relationship with social justice? You will not be evaluated based on your current knowledge and understanding of issues related to social justice, but rather your ability to introspectively evaluate your experiences and what led you to wanting to join SOCLJUST1025F. Your reflection should be 3-4 pages (1000~) words, double spaced, excluding title page) and does not require external sources.

Critical Analysis (15%) October 25th

This assignment asks you to find an example of one newspaper article and one episode of a TV show to critique. You will do the same exercise for both. You will provide a very short summary (several sentences only) of the material. Your task is to describe how the article is subtly racist or sexist. The point is not to find an article/show that is explicitly racist or sexist. The point is to find an article/show that is presented as ideologically neutral, but under the surface is actually structured in such a way that it subtly encourages the reader/viewer to adopt a patriarchal or white supremacist perspective. In other words, your goal is to describe the ways in which a seemingly neutral article/show actually have ideological content. For the article, describe the ways in which the journalist discusses the issue in a way that is sexist or racist (good places to look are The Sun, Fox News, National Post, Daily Mail, etc). For the show, describe the ways in which the writers/producers make the show in a way that is sexist or racist. They should be roughly 400 words each, that is, roughly 800-1000 words total.

Essay Assignment (25%: 20% paper, 5% rough work): November 22nd

Students are expected to write a final essay in response to one of the prompts posted online. This paper should be 1200-1500 words in length and written in APA formatting. You will also be required to submit your “rough work” (worth 5%) to demonstrate the originality of your paper (a detailed outline, notes from your literature review, etc.) Submitted to OWL prior to midnight on November 16th

Final Exam (30%):

During exam period

- Please note that Friday Make-Up Exams may only be written with the instructor’s consent.
- As of September 1, 2026, students will incur a fee of $45.00 per make-up assessment booked with the Exam Office.
- As of September 1, 2026, for any Special Exams booked outside of the designated special exam days, students will incur a fee of $75.00. The designated Special Exam Days for 2026-2027 are January 8 and 9, and May 7 and 12, 2027.

Absences and late assignments: Late assignments and papers will have 2% per day late penalty. Assignments and papers are due at the beginning of class. In the event of a medical emergency, students are requested to contact the Academic Dean’s Office immediately to determine a course of action. This typically requires medical documentation or other relevant proof as to why an absence was unavoidable.

Please refer to this policy:

Statement on Use of Electronic Devices:

You are not allowed to have a cell phone, or any other electronic device, with you during tests or examinations.

Use of Laptops in the Classroom:

King's University College at The University of Western Ontario acknowledges the integration of new technologies and learning methods into the curriculum. The use of laptop computers can contribute to student engagement and effective learning. At the same time, King's recognizes that instructors and students share jointly the responsibility to establish and maintain a respectful classroom environment conducive to learning.

The use of laptops by students during lectures, seminars, labs, etc., shall be for matters related to the course at hand only. Students found to be using laptops for purposes not directly related to the class may be subject to sanctions under the Student Code of Conduct. See https://www.kings.uwo.ca/kings/assets/File/currentStudents/studentLife/conduct/code_of_conduct_2003.pdf

Inappropriate use of laptops [or smart phones] during lectures, seminars, labs, etc., creates a significant disruption. As a consequence, instructors may choose to limit the use of electronic devices in these settings. In addition, in order to provide a safe classroom environment, students are strongly advised to operate laptops with batteries rather than power cords."

Statement on Academic Offences:

King's is committed to Academic Integrity.

Scholastic offences are taken seriously and students are directed to read the appropriate policy, specifically, the definition of what constitutes a Scholastic Offence, at the following Web site:

http://www.uwo.ca/univsec/pdf/academic_policies/appeals/scholastic_discipline_undergrad.pdf

All required papers may be subject to submission for textual similarity review to the commercial plagiarism detection software under license to the University for the detection of plagiarism. All papers submitted for such checking will be included as source documents in the reference database for the purpose of detecting plagiarism of papers subsequently submitted to the system. Use of the service is subject to the licensing agreement, currently between The University of Western Ontario and Turnitin.com <http://turnitin.uwo.ca/>.

Computer-marked multiple-choice tests and/or exams may be subject to submission for similarity review by software that will check for unusual coincidences in answer patterns that may indicate cheating.

Copyright re: Course Material

Lectures and course materials, including power point presentations, tests, outlines, and similar materials are protected by copyright. Faculty Members are the exclusive owner of copyright in those materials they create. Students may take notes and make copies for their own use. Students may not allow others to reproduce or distribute lecture notes and course materials publicly (whether or not a fee is charged) without the express written consent of a Faculty Member. Similarly, students own copyright in their own original papers and exam essays. If a faculty member is interested in posting a student's answers or papers on the course web site he/she should ask for the student's written permission.

(Commercial use of Course material - <http://umd.edu/legal/commercial.html>) Mailbox re Submission of Late Essays/Assignments ONLY:

Only late essays/assignments not handed in at class may be dropped off in the drop box, located between the inner doors of the Cardinal Carter Library. Please inform your students that essays dropped into the mailbox will be picked-up twice per day: once in the morning (9:30 a.m.) and in the afternoon (4:00 p.m.). All essays dropped off after 4:00 p.m. on a Friday will be date-stamped the following Monday. Essays should be placed in an envelope addressed to the professor with the course code and student number clearly indicated.

All reported class cancellations are posted at: <http://www.kings.uwo.ca/current-students/outages-service-interruptions/>

KING'S UNIVERSITY COLLEGE
GENERAL COURSE POLICIES 2026-27

1. Academic Accommodations (Accessibility)

Accessibility Services works to ensure that academic programs are accessible to all students, and supports students who may have a condition related to, but not limited to, vision, hearing, mobility, different ways of learning, mental health, chronic illnesses, chronic pain, autism spectrum disorder, ADD/ADHD, and temporary conditions (beyond short-term academic consideration). Accessibility Services provides recommendations for accommodation based on medical documentation or psychological and cognitive assessment. The accommodation policy can be found here Academic Accommodation for Students with Disabilities. Information on Accessibility Services at King's can be found here.

2. Academic Consideration for Student Absences

Students must be approved to write a makeup exam or for an extension of the assignment deadline. If you need to miss an exam or the deadline for the assignment, please follow these instructions.

There are two ways to seek academic consideration:

(i) Academic consideration based on medical or compassionate grounds

If a student is unable to meet a course requirement due to substantial but temporary extenuating circumstances (medical or compassionate grounds), they should contact the Academic Advising Office. As a rule, documentation is required for academic consideration.

For academic consideration requests on medical grounds, the Student Medical Certificate (SMC) is the appropriate documentation. The SMC is available at <https://registrar.uwo.ca/academics/pdfs/student-medical-certificate.pdf>

- King's students: The Academic Advising Office website is located in DLH 104. The Academic Advising website is <https://mykings.ca/intranet/app/#/academics/academic-advising>.
- If your home faculty is Huron or at Western, please submit your documentation to your faculty's academic counselling office.
- Requests must be made as soon as possible, and no later than 48 hours after the missed assessment.

You may submit requests for academic consideration through the Student Absence Portal, linked on this website:

<https://mykings.ca/intranet/app/#!/academics/academic-advising/academic-consideration-requests-and-student-absence-portal>

(ii) Academic consideration through an undocumented absence

Students are permitted one academic consideration request without supporting documentation per term per half-course (0.5) weight.

- Note that instructors may designate one assessment per half-course weight as requiring formal supporting documentation. Please refer to the course outline to confirm this which assessment has been designated as requiring documentation for consideration (that is, exempt from undocumented absences).
- Undocumented absences can not be used as the basis for academic consideration for December or April exams.

If an instructor has built flexibility into their assessments (e.g., “complete 8 of 10 quizzes”), this flexibility will already address consideration needs and thus academic consideration may be denied.

For further information on the academic consideration policy, please see https://uwo.ca/univsec/pdf/academic_policies/appeals/academic_consideration_Sep24.pdf

c) Absences from Final Exams

If you miss the Final Exam, contact your Academic Advising Office as soon as you are able to do so. They will assess your eligibility to write the “Special Examination” (the name given by the University to a makeup Final Exam).

You may also be eligible to write the Special Exam if you are in a multiple exam situation (i.e., you are scheduled to write more than 2 exams in 23-hour period, or more than 3 exams in a 47-hour period).

If a student fails to write a scheduled Special Examination, the date of the next Special Examination (if granted) normally will be the scheduled date for the final exam the next time this course is offered. The maximum course load for that term will be reduced by the credit of the course(s) for which the final examination has been deferred. See the Academic Calendar for details (under Special Examinations).

d) Religious Accommodations

Students should consult the University’s list of recognized religious holidays, and should give notice in writing to the instructor and their Academic Advising Office if a course requirement will be affected by a religious holiday/observance. Notice must be given as early as possible, and no later than two weeks prior to an examination, and one week prior to a midterm test date. It is the responsibility of such students to inform themselves concerning the work done in classes from which they are absent and to take appropriate action.

3. Support Services

4. Statement on Gender-Based Sexual Violence

King's and Western are committed to reducing incidents of gender-based sexual violence (GBSV) and providing compassionate support to anyone who is going through or has gone through these traumatic events. If you are experiencing or have experienced GBSV (either recently or in the past), you will find information about support services for survivors, including emergency contacts at the following website: Mental Health and Wellness at King's.

You can reach supports at King's by emailing care@kings.uwo.ca or calling 519-930-4640 to reach a Social Worker who can offer help.

You can also reach Western's Gender-Based Violence & Survivor Support Case Manager by email (health@uwo.ca) or by calling 519-661-3568. Additional support services can be found <https://www.uwo.ca/health/gbsv/support/index.html>

5. Statement on Use of Electronic Devices

Use of Electronic Devices: Unless explicitly stated otherwise, you are not allowed to have a cell phone, or any other electronic device, with you during tests or examinations. Unauthorized possession of such a device during a test or examination constitutes an academic offence.

Use of Laptops, Tablets, and Smartphones in the Classroom: King's University College at Western University acknowledges the integration of new technologies and learning methods into the curriculum. The use of electronic devices such as laptop computers, tablets, or smartphones can contribute to student engagement and effective learning. At the same time, King's recognizes that instructors and students share jointly the responsibility to establish and maintain a respectful classroom environment conducive to learning.

The use of electronic devices by students during lectures, seminars, labs, etc., shall be for matters related to the course at hand only. Students found to be using electronic devices for purposes not directly related to the class may be subject to sanctions under the Student Code of Conduct; see https://kings.uwo.ca/sites/2025/assets/files/campus/Kings_Code_of_Student_Conduct.pdf

Inappropriate use of electronics (e.g., laptops, tablets, smartphones) during lectures, seminars, labs, etc., creates a significant disruption. As a consequence, instructors may choose to limit the use of electronic devices in these settings. In addition, in order to provide a safe classroom environment, students attending in-person class sessions are strongly advised to operate laptops with batteries rather than power cords.

6. Statement on Academic Offences

King's is committed to academic integrity. Scholastic offences are taken seriously and students are directed to read the appropriate policy, specifically, the definition of what constitutes a Scholastic Offence, is posted at https://www.uwo.ca/univsec/pdf/academic_policies/appeals/scholastic_offences.pdf

It is expected that students will submit work that is truly their own, completed without external assistance (human or artificial) except as explicitly permitted by the course instructor. Check with you instructor to check which tools, including generative AI (ChatGPT, translation tools, grammar-checking tools) are permitted in each course. Note that although some courses may permit the use of such tools, it does not mean use of such tools is permitted in other courses.

All required papers may be subject to submission for textual similarity review to the commercial plagiarism detection software under license to the University for the detection of plagiarism. All papers submitted for such checking will be included as source documents in the reference database for the purpose of detecting plagiarism of papers subsequently submitted to the system; see <https://elearningtoolkit.uwo.ca/tools/Originality Reports - TurnItIn.html>.

Computer-marked multiple-choice tests and/or exams may be subject to submission for similarity review by software that will check for unusual coincidences in answer patterns that may indicate cheating.

7. Copyright of Course Material

Lectures and course materials, including PowerPoint presentations, tests, outlines, and similar materials are protected by copyright. Faculty members are the exclusive owner of copyright in those materials they create. Students may take notes and make copies for their own use. Students may not allow others to reproduce or distribute lecture notes and course materials publicly (whether or not a fee is charged) without the express written consent of a faculty member. Unauthorized sharing of class content is subject to academic discipline.

Similarly, students own copyright in their own original papers and exam essays. If a faculty member wishes to post a student's answers or papers on the course website, they should ask for the student's written permission.

8. Use of Recordings

Participants in this course are not permitted to record the sessions, except where recording is an approved accommodation and/or the participant has the prior written permission of the instructor. Unauthorized recording and/or sharing of class content is subject to academic discipline.

9. Policy on Attendance

Any student who, in the opinion of the instructor, is absent too frequently from class or laboratory periods in any course, will be reported to the Dean of the Faculty offering the course, after due warning has been given. On the recommendation of the department concerned, and with the permission of the Dean of that Faculty, the student will be debarred from taking the regular examination in the course.
